The Arch of Steel is Templar Grand Honors!

Who is Entitled?

- Grand Master of Masons (or representative)
- Grand Master of the Grand Encampment
- Grand Commander (or representative at Annual Inspection)
- Past Grand Commanders

Seating Arrangement at the Banquet

Perspective: Stand behind the Head Table, face the audience

- The Eminent Commander and his Lady are seated to the immediate left of the podium. The highest-ranking Templar and his Lady are seated to the immediate right of the podium. Seating by rank (see Protocol list) is then alternated as follows:
- The Grand Commandery Officers, from the rank of Deputy Grand Commander on down to and including the Grand Captain General,
- The Past Grand Commanders in order of their seniority. Sir Knight Richard J. Brady would be seated closer to the Commander than Sir Knight George Edmiston III because Sir Knight Brady was Grand Commander before Sir Knight Edmiston,
- The Grand Commandery Officers starting with the Grand Senior Warden through the Grand Sentinel,
- The Division Commander, if he is not a Grand Line Officer,
- The Deputy Division Commander and any visiting Deputies,
- The Candidate,
- The Prelate (if space available).

Stand IN BACK of the table to set up the Place Cards

The candidate and his lady are always at the Head Table. We do not ever place a lady at the end of any table!

If the Grand Officer, Inspecting Officer or Commander do not have a lady it looks very nice for three Sir Knights (i.e., Grand Commander, Inspecting Officer and Commander) to sit in the middle of the table, adjust the ladies as necessary

Order of Introductions at the Banquet

The order of introduction is as follows:

1st-Officers and Past Commanders of the Commandery being inspected.

2nd-Masonic Dignitaries not members of the Grand Commandery or Grand Encampment family, i.e., DDGM, DDGHP, Arch Inspector, etc.

3rd-Division CTA Officers-Treasurer, Secretary, Vice Presidents, and Presidents.

4th-The officers of the Grand Commandery beginning with the lowest in rank up to and including the Grand Senior Warden; then the Past Grand Commanders, the youngest in point of service first; then the Grand Captain General, the Grand Generalissimo, the Deputy Grand Commander; then the Inspecting Officer; then the Grand Commander (if present); then the Grand Master (if present). If the Grand Master of Masons is present, he will be introduced last.

Banquet Seating and Introductions (Supplemental Instructions)

If visiting Grand Officers of other Grand Jurisdictions are present, they should be seated at the head table, the lower head table, or as close to the head table as possible. Protocol suggests they be introduced just before our Ohio Grand Officers. Do not fail to present their ladies when introducing the men and do not fail to present your lady. The best place to do that is just before presenting the Inspecting Officer.

The other dignitaries should also be introduced according to their official titles, with the prefix “Sir Knight”:

Sir Knight _____, Most Worshipful Grand Master of Masons in Ohio.

Sir Knight _____, Most Excellent Grand High Priest of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of Ohio,

Sir Knight _____, Most Illustrious Grand Master of the Grand Council of Royal and Select Masons of Ohio.

Protocol and Knightly Courtesy

- Be on time (including with reports).
- Communicate, Communicate, Communicate!
- Prior to Annual Inspection, ask the I.O. what time he and his Lady plan to arrive.
- Accommodate the I.O.'s Lady. Make sure she is not alone when the I.O. is performing his duties. Same for the candidate's Lady.
- Focus on our new Sir Knight. He is the center of attention at Annual Inspection.

Correct Use of Titles

- Honorary Titles (Eminent, Right Eminent, etc.) follow the office, not the man. They are bestowed by others. Do NOT introduce yourself as the “EMINENT Grand _____,” you are simply “The Grand _____”.
- In writing, do not refer to yourself as the “Eminent Grand _____”. Your honorary title may be included as part of printed letterhead, but in the closing of a letter associated with your signature, drop the honorary title.
- We are all “Sir Knights”. There is no such title as “Eminent Sir” or “Right Eminent Sir”. “Sir Knight” always precedes our Christian and surname, our title follows it.

Wearing of Jewels and Badges

Page 89 of Ohio Tactics:

- Starting in center of coat Jewels will be worn on the LEFT BREAST ONLY in the following order:
- Grand Commandery Jewel
- Commandery Jewel of Office
- K.T.C.H. Jewel (if it is not a collarette)
- Past Deputy Division Commander Jewel
- Past Commander Jewel
- York Rite Service Jewel is above Past Commander Jewel and in line with buttons
- Veterans Bar goes above 1st jewel worn below:
- Grand Encampment Drill Bar
- State Drill Bar
- Commandery Service Award
- Commandery Badge
- Malta Jewel
- Red Cross Jewel (if worn)

Final Thoughts on Protocol

- Just as we would never disrespect the Flag of our country or our Templar uniform, we should never disrespect our institution by failing to follow proper protocol.
- Protocol is an “open-book exercise”! Memorization is not required. Use all tools at your disposal to make certain we are following the prescribed protocol for every occasion.
